

CABOLO® Announces Strategic Partnership with RTS AV Broadening its Presence in the UK

[London] – 24/06/2024 – CABOLO®, a leading provider of secure, offline, AI-enabled speech technology solutions, is pleased to announce a strategic partnership with RTS AV, a distinguished certified system integrator specialising in solutions for the public sector, in an expansion of its presence in the UK market.

This partnership marks a significant milestone in CABOLO®'s commitment to serving public sector customers in the UK. RTS AV's extensive expertise and proven track record in AV systems integration, coupled with CABOLO®'s innovative and highly secure technologies, promises to deliver unparalleled value to clients from across the region.

"We are thrilled to join forces with RTS AV to bring our cutting-edge CABOLO® solutions to the UK market," said Enrico Giannotti, Managing Director at CABOLO®. "RTS AV's deep understanding of the local market dynamics and strong customer relationships perfectly complement our commitment to delivering high-level and secure solutions. Together, we are gearing up to meet the evolving needs of public sector organisations in the UK."

As part of the developing collaboration, RTS AV will leverage its certified status to incorporate and support CABOLO®'s extensive range of solutions, designed to tackle the particular challenges faced by the legal sector and government bodies. From secure and dependable recording and draft report creation solutions to a diverse array of subtitling offerings promoting greater inclusivity and accessibility, clients can anticipate improved efficiency, productivity, and performance.

"The evolution of AI technology is a driving force for businesses to streamline their daily workflows by minimising time spent on producing transcripts from audio files, creating AI draft reports in real-time, and reducing employee workload. We see this technology as the future of business operations and are delighted to partner with CABOLO®" says Finlay Morton, CEO of RTS AV.

The partnership between CABOLO® and RTS AV highlights both companies' dedication to promoting growth and innovation in the UK market. Together, they are well-placed to capitalise on emerging opportunities and meet the evolving needs of customers across the legal and public sectors.

For more information about CABOLO® and its solutions, visit cabolo.com. To learn more about RTS AV and its services, visit rts-av.com.

About CABOLO®

With a wealth of experience dating back to 1985, CABOLO® focuses on AI-enhanced and secure speech technology solutions tailored for public authorities and private sector customers.

CABOLO® serves a diverse international clientele across both the public and private sectors, including esteemed institutions like the European Parliament, Scottish Parliament, the Italian Chamber of Deputies, Italian Ministry of Interior, numerous tribunals, courts, and law enforcement institutions, alongside 9 out of the top 10 most secure banks in Europe, prestigious universities and much more.

We employ state-of-the-art methodologies rooted in Deep Neural Networks and Machine Learning, earning recognition from Gartner five times, and maintaining our leadership. We have built a strong foothold in the speech technology market, backed by a team of highly proficient experts. Our solutions ensure the utmost security for our customers' needs.

For CABOLO® media enquiries, please contact:

Selena Gray

Marketing Director

s.gray@cabolo.com

About RTS AV

Formed in 1996, RTS AV is a market leader in providing technically complex, high-end corporate and public sector AV services. Our clients depend on our expertise and unfailing ability to provide high quality audiovisual equipment and services that work right every time.

For RTS AV media enquiries, please contact:

Finlay Morton

CEO

finlay@rts-av.com